Illinois Sophomore Carries Hopes Of MSU To State Pageant

By DWAIN MCINTOSH

Kathy Luber of Aviston, Ill., a brown-haired, green-eyed sophomore vocational home economics major, will carry the hopes of Murray State University in the Miss Kentucky Pageant in June.

She was selected as the winner from among 13 semifinalists in the ninth annual Miss Murray State University Scholarship Pageant Saturday evening. Her title will enable her to try to bring the Miss Kentucky crown back to the campus for the second successive year.

Karen Gordon of Benton, the reigning Miss Kentucky and campus pageant winner a year ago, is a senior at Murray State. She served as mistress of ceremonies for the pageant program Saturday evening.

Miss Luber, a 5-6, 125-pound majorette for the Marching Thoroughbred Band, did a snappy baton twirling routine as her talent presentation. The 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Luber was awarded a $250 scholarship, along with a trophy and other prizes.

She was crowned by Barbara Kemper of Murray, who succeeded to the Miss Murray State title when Miss Gordon was named Miss Kentucky. Miss Luber took the traditional walk along the runway in Lovett Auditorium carrying a bouquet of red roses and the trophy symbolizing her newly won honor.

Runnersup in the voting by a panel of three judges in the Saturday evening competition were:

Melinda Enix, Benton sophomore, first runnerup; Lynn Riddle, Paducah freshman, second runnerup; Laura Case, Louisville junior, third runnerup; and Carolyn Mae Wathen, Henderson sophomore, fourth runnerup.

Focused on a "The Golden Age of Miss America" theme, the pageant included talent presentations by both Miss Gordon and Miss Kemper. Richard Valentine, director of the Murray Community Theatre, shared the podium with Miss Gordon as master of ceremonies.

Miss Luber, who was sponsored by Regents Hall in the competition, is a member of both the Kentucky Home Economics Association and the American Home Economics Association. She gives baton twirling lessons and is active in twirling competition.

Miss Enix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Enix, sang "I'm Just An In-Between" as her talent presentation. The 19-year-old brunette social work and pre-law major was sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity.

Miss Riddle, who did a modern dance as her talent routine, is a nursing major. The 19-year-old blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Riddle was sponsored by Richmond Hall and Alpha Phi in the competition.

Miss Case, a 21-year-old radio-television major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Case, Jr. She sang "The Trolley Song" in the talent competition. A brunette, she was sponsored by Kappa Alpha in the pageant.

Banquet Honors Recipients

A record number of 90 recipients of Murray State University Alumni Association scholarships will be presented certificates and recognized during alumni activities on the campus on Saturday, April 29.

Awards totaling $45,800 will be presented to the students at a President's Reception from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Student Center. Later, at a 6:30 p.m. banquet in the Student Center, the students will be recognized by the alumni gathering.

Financed by contributions from Murray State alumni and friends, the scholarships are awarded predominantly to incoming freshmen for the 1978-79 school year. The scholarship program is divided into the Century Club program and the Memorial and Honorary Scholarship program.

Made up of alumni and friends who contribute $100 or more, the Century Club supports general scholarships of $500 made to deserving high school seniors who plan to continue their education at Murray State. Fifty-three awards are being made this year through the program.

Another 37 students are beneficiaries of the memorial and honorary scholarships established to honor the living and as memorials to the deceased. Begun in 1971 when two Robert A. "Fats" Everett Memorial Scholarships were awarded, the program has grown to a total of 30 scholarships this year.

Students to receive scholarships this year represent eight states — Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Tennessee, and Michigan.

Gov. Julian M. Carroll will be the speaker at the banquet. A luncheon and reunions for the classes of 1928 and 1953 are also part of the activities for the day — the luncheon at 11:30 a.m. in Winslow Cafeteria and the reunions from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Student Center.

Reservations are $5 each for the banquet and $4 each for the reunion luncheon. They should be made before April 21.

SPEECH TEAM HONORED — Members of the state champion Calloway County High School Speech Team were honored with a school assembly program today. The Laker speech team captured the Kentucky State High School Speech Tournament at the University of Kentucky recently, marking the second year in a row for the team. Stuart To Return For Workshop

Five writing forms — short story, novel, poetry, articles, and writing for children — will be studied during the eighth Jesse Stuart Creative Writing Workshop scheduled at Murray State University July 10-28.

Directed by the Kentucky author and poet whose work has earned him recognition around the world, the three-week workshop was initiated in 1969. An anthology of outstanding student work is published by the university each year.

The workshop is designed to foster and encourage creative writing by affording students a close working relationship with established professional writers. Stuart, who teaches the short story course, will be joined by a faculty of four other successful and well-known writers.

Mrs. Wilma Dykeman Stokely of Newport, Tenn., who writes under the name Wilma Dykeman, will return this summer to teach the novel and to serve as assistant director. She was an instructor in the first workshop and is widely known as novelist, biographer, lecturer, historian, columnist, and critic.

Two of her books, "The Tall Woman," a novel, and "Look to This Day," a collection of essays and vignettes, were selected by the Christian Herald Family Book Club for distribution. Her other novels are "The Far Family" and "Return the Innocent Earth."

Other members of the workshop faculty are holdovers from prior years — Blossom Budney (Mrs. Alvin Tresselt) of West Redding, Conn., who has been involved in the last three workshops, and Lee Pennington of Louisville and Dr. L. J. Hortin of Murray, who have both been on the faculty of each previous workshop.

Mrs. Tresselt will teach writing for children. Pennington will instruct poetry, and Hortin will conduct the articles course.

Additional workshop information may be obtained by writing or calling: Miss Martha Guier, Coordinator, Jesse Stuart Creative Writing Workshop, Ordway Hall, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071, telephone (502) 762-3735.

Panama Vote Expected To Be Very Close

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Senate one day away from its last vote on the Panama Canal treaties, its leaders were still searching for a resolution to the controversy over U.S. rights to intervene in Panama.

Both sides say Tuesday's vote will be extremely close.

Minority Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn., said Sunday he thinks the second treaty will pass "with a vote or two on the plus side."

Other supporters say privately they are optimistic they can gather the 67 votes necessary for approval of the agreement to gradually turn the canal over to Panama by the year 2000.

Elsewhere on Capitol Hill, the House Ways and Means Committee was beginning work today on President Carter's proposed $25 billion tax cut. The committee, expected to spend at least a month drafting legislation to put before the full House, is starting with itemized deductions.

The first treaty, guaranteeing the waterway's perpetual neutrality, was approved with one vote to spare, 68-32, on March 16.

Since then, a provision attached to that treaty permitting the United States to use military forces to keep the canal open has triggered hints that Panama might reject such wording.

On Sunday, Panamanian ambassador Gabriel Lewis met with Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Paul Sarbanes, D-Md., the treaties' floor managers, and Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va.

Church said they met to "explain clearly to Lewis the situation in the Senate" and to hear his description of "the political problems the Panamanian government faces" over the treaties.

The controversy over the provision, which would allow U.S. intervention if the canal were threatened by internal labor troubles, has thrown the Senate into an uproar and jeopardized approval of the second agreement.

For several days, the provision's author, Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., met with Carter administration officials in an effort to soften its impact in Panama and in the Senate itself.

Last week, Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd intervened. By Friday he and DeConcini were near agreement on a second treaty reservation declaring that the United States has no intention of intervening in Panama's affairs, a reservation that will probably be voted on shortly before the final treaty vote Tuesday.

In other congressional action:

—The Senate is scheduled to vote later in the week on a proposal to ease government regulation of air transportation. The bill would allow airlines to raise fares by 5 per cent or lower them by as much as 50 percent without first obtaining approval from the Civil Aeronautics Board.

—Leaders of a House-Senate conference committee considering President Carter's energy bill said they are hopeful of reaching agreement on a compromise natural gas pricing plan.

The natural gas issue has prevented passage of an energy bill for months.

but agreement could be reached by Thursday, a year to the day after Carter sent his energy program to Congress.

Israel Settling Again In Jordan's West Bank Area

JERUSALEM (AP) — Tractors began breaking ground for a new Jewish settlement in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River after a five-week freeze on construction of the controversial outpost, settlers said today.

Reports of the renewed construction activity came just a day after the Israeli cabinet reaffirmed its support for U.N. resolution 242, which calls for Israel's withdrawal from captured Arab territories, as the basis for all Middle East peace negotiations. However, the cabinet refused to say what this means for the future of the occupied West Bank.

A spokesman for the nationalist Gush Emunim movement, chief advocate of widespread Jewish settlement in the occupied territories, said ground is being cleared at Nebi Salah, 16 miles northwest of Jerusalem, with government approval. The settlement will house 40 families.

Government spokesmen were not available for comment.

The daily newspaper Maariv said 25 acres had been seized by administrative order for the settlement. It said none of the land was owned by private Arab landlords.

The Nebi Salah settlement caused a cabinet crisis last month when Defense Minister Ezer Weizman ordered construction stopped in order not to displease the United States prior to a visit by Prime Minister Menachem Begin. Weizman threatened to resign if his orders were disobeyed.

Nance-Griffin Vows Are Read, Church Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Griffin

The wedding of Miss Deborah Nance, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Dale G. Nance, to Joel Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Griffin, was solemnized on Friday, March 24, at seven p.m. at the Sinking Springs Baptist Church.

The Rev. Lawson Williamson officiated at the double ring ceremony as the couple united at the altar flanked by tapered candleabra and baskets of potted white mums.

The nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Onieda White, organist and vocalist.

Bride's Dress
The lovely bride, given in marriage by her uncle, wore a gown of an empire design in white crepe with a graduated panel of French Alencon lace galloon down the front. The lace also banded the elbow length sleeves and the square cut chapel length train.

She carried a beautiful bouquet of white shasta daisies with white knotted streamers. Her triple tiered veil was of elbow-length silk illusion caught onto a small lace and seed pearl pill box.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Mrs. Janet Schector. Her empire styled gown was of mint green dotted swiss and she carried long stemmed shasta daisies tinted green.

The two flower girls, Vicki Culp, niece of the bride, and Ginger Griffin, niece of the groom, were also attired in mint green long dresses. They carried white wicker baskets decorated with long streamers and filled with rose petals.

Brad Houston, a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer and carried a white satin ring pillow with mint green streamers.

Attendants for the groom were Myron Smith, bestman; Randy Walker and Ricky Nance, ushers.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor.

The beautifully appointed table was covered with a lace cloth over green and centered with an arrangement of white daisies and green carnations flanked by white candles. At one end of the table was the three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom statuette. At the other end of the table was the punch bowl.

Serving at the table were Miss Cindy Outland and Miss Barbie Griffin.

After a short wedding trip to the Great Smoky Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin are now residing in their home at Almo Heights.

Dear Abby

Mother of Six Faces Dilemma

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you said in your column that you don't recommend withholding sex from a mate, so of course, my husband waved the paper in my face.

Abby: We have six children. We would have had 10, but two were stillborn, and I had two miscarriages. Each pregnancy was very hard on me, yet my husband refuses to use any kind of birth control, and he won't let me use anything. But that doesn't stop him from wanting sex.

After my last pregnancy, I wanted so much to have my tubes tied, but my husband wouldn't let me "do that" to myself.

I'm only 31 and he's 33. Can you imagine how many more kids I could have? I'm so worn out with these six kids, and I honestly don't want any more, so I finally told my husband that from now on he can just stay away from me. Now he's mean and surly, but I don't care. What else can I do?

TIED

DEAR TIED: Ask your doctor or clergyman to try to talk some sense into your husband's head. In view of your medical history, some kind of birth control (or sterilization for you—or him) should be considered. You are both too young to deny yourselves sex until menopause makes reproduction impossible.

DEAR ABBY: Re the woman whose husband gave her the silent treatment: Here's what I did when my husband pulled that on me.

I stood it for one week, then I decided that if he wouldn't talk to me, I would get on the phone and talk to someone who would. I didn't bother with local calls; instead, I telephoned friends and relatives in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Indiana. And I didn't watch the clock either; some of my conversations lasted an hour. I caught up with all the news and had a ball. I never once hinted that my husband wasn't speaking to me.

Needless to say, as soon as my husband got the telephone bill, the silence was broken. No way could he refuse to pay it or have the phone disconnected, because the telephone was in the name of his company.

I told him why I had made all those calls, and that was the last time he gave me the silent treatment.

FOUND A CURE IN ALBANY, ORE.

DEAR FOUND: I wouldn't recommend that "cure" for everyone. More than silence could be broken in some homes.

DEAR ABBY: A guy at school likes me, but I don't like him. There's nothing wrong with him—he's just not my type. He calls me for dates months ahead, knowing I couldn't possibly have a date for that night. What should I tell him?

If I say I'm busy on Friday night, he asks me for the next Friday night, and the next, and the next, and so on.

I hate to hurt his feelings, but I hate going out with him even more. Please help me.

SOFTHEARTED

DEAR SOFT: Do him a favor and tell him that you like him as a friend, so if he's looking for a "girlfriend," you don't qualify. It's not as unkind as it sounds. At least you're turning him loose to ask someone who might be more his type.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Lance R. in Belvedere, S.C., whose father bet him that there were no professional basketball players under 6 feet tall, that his father owes him $20.

According to the National Basketball Association, there are five active professionals under 6 feet tall. They are: Charles Criss (Atlanta Hawks), Fouts Walker (Cleveland Cavaliers), Calvin Murphy (Houston Rockets), Robert Smith (Denver Nuggets) and Kevin Porter (New Jersey Nets).

Baby Teeth Deserve Good Care

Q. Mrs. A. B. writes that she and her husband have a difference of opinion concerning the importance of dental care of their six-year-old son's baby teeth. Her husband feels that, since they are going to be lost and replaced by permanent teeth, they require no attention now, but she feels that they are important. Mrs. A. B. asks for comment.

A. While I have no desire to enter into a family debate, I shall quickly agree with you that it is very important to give prompt care to "baby" or deciduous teeth in a child.

Checking and filling cavities early may save a baby tooth and avoid its being lost prematurely. When the tooth is pulled or lost early, its space may narrow and not allow room for the permanent tooth to come out in its proper location. Early loss of a baby tooth may cause a dentist to replace it with a space maintainer to prevent the adjacent teeth from drifting into the vacant space.

Early loss of deciduous teeth also can interfere with the proper growth of the child's jaw bones. The absence of teeth may affect the cosmetic appearance of a child and interfere with proper expression and facial development, as well as the chewing of food.

When the first permanent teeth appear (the six-year molars), they are often thought to be another deciduous tooth. Therefore, they may fail to get the care and attention they merit. They usually come in behind the baby teeth.

The six-year molars are more deeply grooved and are apt to catch food particles. These can encourage decay. Also, these teeth are back in the mouth and less visible. These important permanent teeth need attention to prevent early cavity formation.

An important reason for starting oral hygiene early in the care of the first teeth is the establishment of proper habits and a sense of responsibility in the care and preservation of teeth and gums. Such a program includes regular brushing and visits to the dentist. A small expenditure of time and money on the deciduous teeth may avoid major dental bills later for the child and add to your child's oral health as a part of his general well-being.

The establishment of good dental habits early in life gives a better chance of preserving all his teeth throughout his life. The advantages of doing so are numerous.

A Sorry Story

It is good that Tongsun Park has told his story in public, despite his own reluctance, the reluctance of the South Korean government and the reluctance of many in Congress.

But the story he told is a sorry one, reflecting discredit upon the institution of Congress. Not that any large number of congressmen were named by Park as recipients of his generosity. He named only 29, and a dozen of them took only small amounts ($100 to $500) in campaign contributions.

But the propriety of taking any money from an alien should be under question. The congressmen should have suspected that Park was an agent of a foreign government. The Constitution specifically prohibits all federal officials from accepting any present or emolument of any kind whatever from any foreign state.

And what about the congressmen who accepted larger gifts from Park?

Park says:

- Former Congressman Richard T. Hanna, D-Calif., took $262,000.
- Former Congressman Otto E. Passman, D-La., took $237,000.
- Former Congressman Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., took $221,000.
- Former Congressman Edwin Edwards, D-La., took $20,000, including $15,000 paid to his wife and brother.
- House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., celebrated his birthdays at two parties which cost Park $6,000.

There is no excuse for congressional acceptance of such extravagant gifts of hospitality. Free-loading and gratuities should be entirely avoided by public servants. A simple rule could be the guide: accept nothing of value.

HEARTLINE

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 East Dayton Street, West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am a 60-year-old widow. I have always brought everything by paying cash. I would like to get some credit cards so I would not have to carry cash all the time. I understand that, to qualify for a credit card, I must give bank references. I have quite a bit of money in different bank accounts and I do not want this information easily obtained. Now, can I qualify for credit cards or am I too old?

J. T.

First, no one is too old to obtain credit cards. The Equal Credit Opportunity Act makes it illegal to discriminate against a credit applicant because of his or her age. So do not let any bank, retail store, or credit card company tell you that you are too old to qualify.

When applying for a credit card, there is no law that says you have to disclose everything about your finances. But if you do not provide enough information to prove your credit-worthiness, the company has every right to turn your application down. However, the company must give you a written explanation of why you were turned down.

If you are worried about your bank-account information falling into the wrong hands, you should know that once you apply for a loan or credit card, the information is usually passed on to a credit bureau and put into a file. If you applied for credit again in the future, the company would probably check with the credit bureau about your financial track record. It is impossible to tell exactly where this information will turn up.

An easy way to establish credit is to use one of your savings accounts as collateral for a bank loan. Pay it back promptly and you have now established a good credit rating.

It might be wise for you to study credit-card buying, particularly in the area of interest rates and finance charges. After checking the high cost of credit, you may want to stick with cash purchases.

HEARTLINE: I have heard that the new Social Security bill, passed in December 1977, will change the law for earning a quarter of coverage under Social Security. Do you have any information on this?

T. S.

Yes, that bill will change the way a worker earns a quarter of coverage. Under the old law, a worker had to earn at least $50 in one of the calendar quarters ending March 31, June 30, Sept. 30, or Dec. 31 to receive credit for a quarter of coverage under Social Security. Under the new bill, a worker will receive a quarter of coverage (up to a total of four) for each $250 of earnings paid in a year and this $250 measure will be increased every year to take account of increases in average wages.

For people on Social Security, Heartline has written an easy-to-understand book. Heartline's Guide to Social Security can be obtained by sending $2.00 to Heartline, P. O. Box 11934, Chicago, IL 60611. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

HEARTLINE: I received an honorable discharge after completing a two-year enlistment. Am I eligible to receive a headstone or grave marker even though I had no wartime service?

K. C.

Yes. A headstone or grave marker is available for any deceased veteran of wartime or peacetime service (other than active duty for training) who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

De Concini And Snail Darter

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In one of those wonderful coincidences that sums up much of the sound and fury on Capitol Hill, Dennis DeConcini and the snail darter made news the same day last week.

Until a few days ago, the snail darter probably was better known than the freshman Democratic senator from Arizona.

Both are identified with giant water projects. Both have frustrated and angered powerful forces.

And both the obscure senator and the recently discovered minnow may have received more credit than they deserved.

For months, Sens. James Allen, D-Ala.; Robert Griffin, R-Mich.; Orrin Hatch, R-Utah; Bob Dole, R-Kan.; and their allies have argued and maneuvered with all the parliamentary wiles they could muster to defeat the Panama Canal treaties.

Suddenly, they are forgotten. The villain in the eyes of treaty supporters has become a once obscure senator who voted in favor of the first treaty and seems likely to do the same on the second.

But the Carter administration and the Senate leadership paid a price for DeConcini's support: their willingness to go along with a provision giving the United States the right to use force, if necessary, "to reopen the canal or restore the operations of the canal."

No one knew of the existence of the snail darters when the Tennessee Valley Authority came up with plans in 1936 to build a dam at the mouth of the Little Tennessee River. There was plenty of opposition to the project which became known as Tellico Dam but construction finally began in 1967.

Six years later, an ichthyologist discovered the snail darters, a three-inch fish whose only known habitat was near the site of the dam.

The snail darter was declared an endangered species and a federal appeals court halted construction of the dam.

Without a base of support among environmentalists and local residents opposed to the dam, the snail darter would have vanished from earth before any knew it existed.

Which brings matters back to DeConcini.

If the administration had not felt desperately in need of his votes in favor of the two treaties, the DeConcini amendment never would have been attached to the neutrality pact.

His amendment really is not much different from the leadership amendments to the neutrality treaty which also give the United States the right to intervene to keep the waterway open.

Italy's Ruling Party Says It May Bargain For Kidnapped Moro

ROME (AP) — Italy's ruling Christian Democratic Party has indicated it might modify its refusal to negotiate for the life of former Premier Aldo Moro, kidnapped by terrorists a month ago, but the Communists urged the government to remain firm.

Christian Democratic leaders met for three hours Sunday to discuss the announcement from the Red Brigades terrorist organization that a "people's court" had sentenced Moro to death. A statement issued after the meeting said the party, while "aware of our duties before the nation" was "anguished about the life of (Moro) and therefore on the humanitarian level we feel that this life must be spared by all juridically possible and legitimate means."

The party, of which Moro is president, repeatedly rejected demands by the Red Brigades through letters written by Moro for the release of jailed terrorists. Fifteen of them are on trial in Turin on charges of sedition. However, the Christian Democrats never have ruled out the possibility of buying Moro's freedom with ransom money from his friends or family.

The Communists, the largest of the parties supporting the minority Christian Democratic government in Parliament, said in an editorial in the party newspaper L'Unita that "emotional feelings (must not) prevail on the coolness and calm necessary in this grave hour."

The front-page editorial said politicians "must continue to display their sense of responsibility before the republic."

President Giovanni Leone, in an open letter to Moro's wife, Eleonora, appealed to the kidnapers to spare the life of his longtime colleague.

"A sense of humanity may induce them into a gesture of repentance... and drive them to spare a life whose sacrifice would gain them nothing, absolutely nothing," the message said.

The Red Brigades kidnapped the 61-year-old political leader and killed his five bodyguards March 16 on a Rome street near his home.

One of the original semifinalists — Pam Graham, Belleville, Ill., sophomore — did not appear as a contestant. She won the Miss Greater Southwestern Illinois crown recently and will appear in the Miss Illinois Pageant this summer.

Judges for the pageant were Bill Hamilton of Louisville of the Miss Kentucky Pageant board of directors, John R. Bohn, treasurer of the Miss Kentucky Pageant, and Allison Nelson, concert pianist and artist-in-residence at the University of Tennessee at Martin.

Jean Campbell, Owensboro senior, directed the pageant, which was sponsored by the Student Activities Board of the Student Government Association.

Carter Is Looking For Means To Improve Record In Office

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Carter and more than two dozen aides and Cabinet officials, secluded on a chilly, wooded mountaintop, are looking for ways to improve their record after 15 months in office.

They planned to sit down this morning, as they would in Washington most Monday mornings, for a Cabinet meeting after spending Sunday relaxing in the rustic atmosphere of the presidential resort.

"Basically, they kind of got settled and sat around and talked informally," White House spokesman Walt Wurfel said of Sunday's activities. "There was no working session at all."

The officials planned to return to Washington by mid-afternoon.

Today's conference, which White House press secretary Jody Powell said was called to discuss procedures for long-range decision making, was the first such session since Carter, his prospective Cabinet and top aides met at St. Simon's Island, Ga., three weeks' before Inauguration Day.

It came against a backdrop of a falling position in public opinion polls and 15 months in office during which the administration accomplished less than it had hoped.

A New York Times-CBS News poll revealed last week that a record low of 46 percent of those asked did not approve of the way Carter was doing his job.

Administration critics have complained that important issues, including economic and urban policies and such key foreign affairs problems as the neutron bomb, have been affected by a chaotic decision-making process in the White House.

Concern over the political nature of the administration's problems could be seen in the fact that John White, the new chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was invited to the conference.

Most of the Cabinet members flew to Camp David in a Marine Corps helicopter with Vice President Walter F. Mondale. They arrived

Sunday afternoon shortly after a similar helicopter touched down carrying the White House senior staff and other key Carter advisors.

Mondale, Energy Secretary James Schlesinger and acting Secretary of State Warren Christopher walked to the camp's cabins about a quarter of a mile from the helicopter landing pad.

International Day

Planned Wednesday

The Calloway County Homemakers will sponsor a special International Day Program, featuring Kenya, on Wednesday, April 19, at the First Presbyterian Church, Main and 16th Streets, Murray.

Displays of arts and crafts will be featured at the church building beginning at eleven a.m. Lucy Hammonds of the University of Kentucky, Lexington, will be the featured speaker at the special program at one p.m. at the church.

Charges Dropped

Charges filed against Freddie Hendon of Murray in connection with a traffic accident in Paris, Tenn., have been dropped.

Paris police charged Hendon, the driver of a car involved in the accident, the night of the wreck but later dismissed the charges when evidence failed to substantiate the charges.

THINK ABOUT IT!

By Kenny Innes

You have heard it said, "Times change, but people don't." ...This is ridiculous. Times change only because people change. Changing times come about only because people change sociological concepts and moral values. Sometimes changing times are dynamic, sometimes deplorable. In our last several generations we have seen both.

Changing times, either for the good or bad, are a direct result of either adhering to or disregarding the spiritual laws that a man shall "reap what he sows." When we sow seeds of love, trust, hope and faith, we reap a harvest of happiness in return. When we sow seeds of suspicion, envy, greed or hate, we harvest the thorns of unhappiness. In present day language, we often refer to "cause and effect." When we see or realize a bad "effect," we often try to camouflage the "cause" with alibies or excuses. Wouldn't it be better for all of us to de-emphasize present day language of "cause and effect" and re-emphasize God's words: "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap?"

Jerry Odlin Shatters Mark In 5,000 Meters At Dogwoods

Nick Rose put Western Kentucky University on the map, both in the United States and England.

Jerry Odlin is trying to do the same thing...for Murray State University.

With the MSU Englishmen having outstanding years, Odlin capped perhaps his finest performance of the season at the Dogwood Relays in Knoxville Saturday.

The Racer freshman shattered the school record in the 5,000 meters as he finished second in 13:58.1. For those who aren't into the metric system, that equals a 13:28.1 for three miles and that folks, is moving on.

Odlin, who qualified for the nationals by 14 seconds, easily defeated everyone else in the OVC, including East Tennessee stars Louis Kenny and Adrian Leek. The old record of 14:10.1 was set in 1972 by Jim Krejci, now a school teacher in Missouri.

The two-mile relay team gave national champion Villanova quite a run. Villanova won the event in 7:25.5 while the Racers were second in a school record of 7:26.7.

Running legs for the Racers were Martyn Brewer with a 1:53.7; Dave Rafferty 1:51.5; Pat Chimes 1:51.9; and Dave Warren with a 1:49.6.

In other events, the sprint medley relay team had a 3:31.0 but failed to place. However, Keith O'Meally anchored with a 1:52.8 800-leg, a personal best for the freshman Englishman.

Richard Charleston and Brian Rutter finished in 9:05.8 and 9:27.5 respectively in the 3,000-meter steeplechase but neither placed. Freshman Everton Cornelius had a 24-2 in the long jump and didn't place while Axel Leitmayr failed to clear the opening height of 6-10 in the high jump.

The Racers will be at Clarksville Friday for a 2:45 p.m. quadrangular with Middle Tennessee, Arkansas State and Austin Peay.

By The Associated Press
Just about everybody in the ballpark thought it was a hit. Not Neal Russo, however. And certainly not Bob Forsch.

The play in question occurred in the eighth inning of Sunday's game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies — and it meant the difference between baseball immortality and just another fine performance by Forsch.

Having held the Phillies hitless over the first seven innings, the Cardinal right-hander was greeted at the start of the eighth by a ground ball into left field by Philadelphia center fielder Gary Maddox. There were groans from the crowd of 11,495 at Busch Stadium, most of them assuming the no-hitter was at an end.

However, the groans turned to cheers when Russo — the official scorer from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch — ruled the play an error on third baseman Ken Reitz. And the cheers became a roar later when Forsch finished with a 5-0 no-hitter.

In other National League games Sunday, the Houston Astros nipped the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 in 13 innings; the Los Angeles Dodgers walloped the Atlanta Braves 8-0; the San Francisco Giants defeated the San Diego Padres 8-4; the Chicago Cubs turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1 and the Montreal Expos beat the New York Mets 4-1.

Murray State Netters Up Season Mark To 16-6

The Murray State men's tennis team won four of six singles matches, then swept all three doubles contests for a 7-2 win over Western Kentucky Saturday at the MSU tennis complex.

The win, which gave Coach Bennie Purcell his second straight triumph over the Hilltoppers this year, upped the Racers' season record to 16-6.

"This is probably the best team I've had in at least three years," said Purcell. "In past years I've thought I would have good teams but you never know when the right combination of players will come along."

Murray's No. 1 and No. 2 players, Ragnar Felix and Jan Soegaard, respectively, dropped their singles matches. Felix fell 6-7, 6-3, 6-4 to Hasan Ozdemir; Soegaard, 6-1, 6-2 to Bengt Ronnerman.

But the Racers took the next four. Chris Leonard won 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, at No. 3 over Jorge Alemparte to go to 13-8 on the year. Roger Berthiaume won 6-0, 6-1 at No. 4 over Mark Nichols, upping his mark to 13-8.

Jeff Leeper, a senior from Paducah, won 6-2, 6-3 at No. 5 over John Mark Fones to go to 14-7 and Tom Lie won 6-1, 6-4 at No. 6 over Ken Stone to up his mark to 11-9.

Felix and Lee won 6-3, 6-4 at No. 1 doubles and the duo of Leonard-Leeper won 6-1, 7-5 at No. 3.

The most exciting match came at No. 2 doubles. Soegaard and Berthiaume won 7-6, 7-6 in two tiebreakers in the day's final contest. Down 4-0 in the last tiebreaker, the Murray duo rallied for five straight points to take the match.

The Racers host Southeast Missouri Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. and face the University of Kentucky Thursday at 8 p.m.

TENNIS

MONTE CARLO. — Fifth-seeded Raul Ramirez of Mexico defeated unseeded Tomas Smid of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 6-3, 6-4 in the finals of a $175,000 World Championship Tennis tournament.

For Murray, Larry Patton had a 224 total to lead the Racers. He had rounds of 76-75-73. Other scores for Murray were: Tom Fischer 225 (78-76-77); Brian McDonald 230 (74-78-78); Bobby Cronin 231 (77-79-75); and Jeff Tuller 231 (78-76-77).

The Racers play in a quadrangular today at Bowling Green.

Cardinals' Bob Forsch Gets First No-Hit Game Of Season

Enos Cabell's RBI single in the 13th inning led Houston over Cincinnati. Cabell's line-drive hit to left field scored Jimmy Sexton from second base to break a 3-3 tie that existed from the ninth inning.

Dodgers 8, Braves 0
Rick Rhoden scattered seven hits and Steve Garvey and Glenn Burke each singled home two runs as Los Angeles defeated Atlanta for the fifth time this year without a loss. Rhoden struck out two and walked four in pitching the National League West leaders to their sixth victory in eight starts.

Giants 8, Padres 4

Willie McCovey's three-run homer in the first inning triggered San Francisco over San Diego. McCovey's homer was the 495th of his career.

lead Rick Reuschel and Chicago over Pittsburgh. The triumph was the second in three decisions for Reuschel.

76ers Humiliate Knicks With Eight In Twin Figure Scoring

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

"Personnel-wise, Philadelphia is the best team in the league."

That was the way New York Knicks Coach Willis Reed sized up the Philadelphia 76ers before the start of their National Basketball Association playoff quarter-finals, and Sunday's series opener did nothing to change his mind.

The Sixers took command early in the second quarter at 41-20 and were never in trouble, routing the Knicks 130-90 as eight Philadelphia players scored in double figures.

"We were strong at the start and tried to fight 'em, but the 76ers have the personnel," said Reed.

In another quarter-final opener Sunday, the San Antonio Spurs defeated the Washington Bullets 114-103 behind NBA scoring champion George Gervin, who netted 25 of his game-high 35 points in the second half.

Meanwhile, Seattle closed out its first-round series against Los Angeles with a 111-102 victory over the Lakers in the decisive third game. The Sonics will meet the Portland Trail Blazers in a best-of-seven quarter-final starting Tuesday night in Portland.

The other quarter-final also opens Tuesday night, with Milwaukee at Denver.

The Knicks, the worst defensive team in the NBA, played well for the first 10 minutes and trailed only 20-18 with two minutes left in the opening quarter. But the 76ers outscored New York 8-2 to lead 28-20 at the end of the first period, then ran off the first 13 points of the second quarter to break the game wide open.

New York got no closer than 12 points the rest of the game.

Spurs 114, Bullets 103
San Antonio trailed 49-48 at halftime before Gervin took charge, scoring 16 points as the Spurs took an 82-76 lead at the end of three quarters. The Spurs led by as many as 16 in the final period. The Bullets trimmed it to 105-101, but Gervin added two free throws, a basket and another free throw to put it out of reach and give the Spurs their first playoff win ever in the NBA.

"The only way to beat them is to play super defense all the time," said Washington Coach Dick Motta. "We let them get away in the third period."

Gervin got them going and we just couldn't stop him."

Elvin Hayes led Washington with 26 points.

Sonics 111, Lakers 102

Seattle rookie forward Jack Sikma scored 24 points, including 12 in the third period as the Sonics built a 19-point lead and then held on as center Marvin Webster, who had 20 points and a game-high 18 rebounds, scored 6 of Seattle's last 12 points.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar played the entire game for Los Angeles and led all scorers with 31 points.

Can the Sonics dethrone Portland, the defending NBA champion, which has been crippled by injuries in recent weeks?

Lakers Coach Jerry West gives them a shot.

"Seattle has a lot of players who are very talented but as yet don't have any exposure," said West. "I think Seattle's chances against Portland right now are very good."

Lady Racer Tennis Team Gets Easy Win

The Murray State women's tennis team upped its season record to 8-5 with an easy 9-0 victory at Martin Saturday.

In singles play, Karen Wels won her match at number one with a 6-2, 6-3 win over Ann Hamilton; Lynn Martin won 6-3, 6-2 at number two over Kim Spangler; Anne Ress won 6-2, 6-2 at three over Vicki Holder; Kathy Lindstrom won 6-3, 6-3 at four over Rose Ann Boyd; Leanne Owen won in shutout sets at five over Lisa Patterson and at six; Yvonna Utley won 6-0, 6-1 over Teresa Roach.

The doubles play found Martin-Ress winning 6-1, 6-2 at number one over Holder-Spangler; Wels-Utley winning 6-2, 6-0 at two over Hamilton-Roach and at number three, Owen-Lindstrom won a 6-3, 6-4 match over Patterson-Boyd.

The Lady Racers host a tough Memphis State team to a dual match at 3 p.m. Thursday. Saturday, MSU is at Clarksville for a triangular with Austin Peay and Carson-Newman.

'Breds Drop Three Of Four, Eliminated From OVC Chase

Murray State's magic number is down to just two. That's the number of wins the 'Breds need to keep from having a losing season.

Murray, which has now lost six of its last seven games, dropped three of four this weekend to fall to 21-16 on the season.

The 'Breds were eliminated from the Ohio Valley Conference race Saturday as they could manage only a split at home with Western Kentucky. The Hilltoppers, after losing the opener 6-2, bounced back in the nightcap with homerun power to take a 7-4 win and wrap up the western division title.

Sunday, the 'Breds lost two at Memphis State, which is currently ranked ninth in the nation.

Murray has just eight more games left of the season. The 'Breds play two at Arkansas State Thursday before hosting Middle Tennessee to a pair on Saturday. Memphis State will be here for a single game on the 24th, Arkansas State for two on the 27th and Southern Illinois for a single game on the 30th.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Southpaw Andy Rice made one mistake in the opening contest. Jim Atkinson of Western blasted a two-run homer in the top of the second. But after that, Rice hurled shutout ball the rest of the way in gaining the victory.

Murray scored three times in the third as singles by Bill Wagoner, Al Luigs and Doran Perdue loaded the bases. Darrell Niswonger grounded out to drive in the first run. Luigs scored on a wild pitch and Robin Courtney singled with two out for the third run.

The rest of the 'Bred runs came on homerun blasts. Tony Threatt hit a solo shot in the fifth and in the sixth inning, Al Luigs blasted his first homerun at Murray State, a two-run blow to rightfield.

Rice walked just two batters in the game and fanned two.

In the second contest, Mark Riggins had a 4-0 lead after three innings but couldn't hold the lead.

Murray scored one in the first as Perdue drove in a run with a single then in the second, Courtney doubled in a run for a 2-0 lead before Greg Tooley blasted a 400-foot shot to left for a 4-0 lead.

Western made it 4-3 in the fourth as Frank Hughes cracked a three-run homer to left-center.

Murray's 4-3 lead held until the top of the sixth when Hughes belted a two-run homer to give Western the lead. The Hilltoppers added two insurance runs to wrap up the win.

Riggins worked five complete innings and was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Cliff Buechel, who played in the game as the designated hitter and had three hits in four trips to the plate.

The loss leaves the 'Breds with a 4-6 league record while Western goes to 8-2. Murray must win both games with Middle Saturday to avoid a losing season in the OVC.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Mark Wezet lost a heart-breaker in the first game as Memphis State scored an unearned run in the last of the seventh for a 2-1 win.

Murray fell behind 1-0 in the first but tied the game in the fifth as Al Luigs drove in a run with a sacrifice fly. The 'Breds had a man on third with one out in the seventh but couldn't score.

In the last of the seventh, Memphis State had a runner on first and one out when Greg Roper hit a bouncer down toward third. Robin Courtney threw to first and the ball wound up going over the head of first baseman Bill Wagoner and the runner scored all the way from first to give Memphis State the win.

Memphis right-hander Charlie Lea raised his record to 9-0 on the season as he scattered five hits and fanned five men. Wezet walked one and struck out two. In the nightcap, Scott Durham went the distance for Murray and one pitch cost him the game.

With the bases loaded and Memphis State holding a 1-0 lead in the last of the fourth, Greg Roper drilled a grand-slam homerun to center for a 5-0 lead.

Murray trimmed it to 5-2 in the fifth as Wagoner and Tooley hit back-to-back shots. Tooley's homerun was over 430 feet.

Memphis added single runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings to pad the margin.

The games at Arkansas State Thursday will conclude the 'Bred road season.

Robey Looking To Career With Horses

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Rick Robey isn't a country boy who went to the city, he's a city boy who wants to go to the country.

Before coming to Kentucky four years ago from New Orleans, Robey had never been on a farm. Now the 6-foot-11 member of the NCAA Champion Wildcats faces a professional basketball career and hopes someday to get into the business of horse breeding and racing.

When he decided on the University of Kentucky, Robey got in touch with Seth Hancock, owner of Claiborne Farm, and "he let me work out there the summer before my freshman year. I just really became interested in horses that summer."

About a year later, he decided to major in agriculture at UK. "My major is production ag, which is a kind of general type thing. I just kind of wanted to get a feel for it, so someday, if I've got a farm and have someone running it for me, I would know at least a little bit about it."

Robey's experience as a farmer is somewhat limited, compared with that usually found in agriculture majors. He rarely drives a tractor and hasn't operated much of the machinery usually found on a farm.

But he has had a stint in the hayfield, while working at Claiborne, and in the tobacco patch, when he and several other UK players helped Coach Joe B. Hall house his crop near Cynthia. He describes both jobs as "tough."

Most of his summer work involved horses.

"During the day I worked out at Raceland Farm, which is where they keep most of their yearlings. It just mainly involved bringing them up in the morning and putting them in their stalls, cleaning them, feeding them, and then in the afternoons releasing them in the fields."

"Once the Keeneland Sales got close, I started working with the sale horses," Robey, 22, said in a recent interview.

He hopes to get started in his own business, as soon as possible, perhaps by buying a mare or two this summer.

"A lot depends on the size of my (professional) contract, but it seems like I'm going to do all right," he said.

"It would be nice to go back home and play for New Orleans, but I'm really not going to have any choice...I just hope that I can get maybe a house or something here in the Lexington area so during the summer months I'd be able to come back down here."

A few years after buying the mares, Robey said he hopes to "find myself a small farm or something" to have after he retires from professional basketball.

"I'd enjoy someday getting into the racing part of it. I think that would probably be one of the best feelings in the world, to raise a horse and watch him grow and then have him win a race."

"I hope someday that I'll have enough money to be able to do this." On another "someday," he hopes to be able to "jump on a plane and go down and watch a horse run that's mine."

"That's just a dream right now. You know, it was a dream five years ago to win the NCAA, and that came true. So, now, it's just a matter of trying to learn as much as I can now and maybe someday I'll be able to put it to use."

The dream began growing after Robey found his work on the farm gave him a chance to temporarily escape the pressures of his basketball life.

"There was just a relaxing atmosphere out on the farm. I think by being an athlete you have so many other pressures. It just feels good to get away from everybody and relax a little bit."

Set-Aside Programs Are Revised

Few farmers may realize that the Feed Grain and Wheat Programs have been revised to allow for an additional paid-for set-aside. The additional 10 per cent set-aside is on top of the original 10 per cent set-aside for feed grain crops. On corn, this would entitle the farmer to a payment of $.20 per bu. X established yield X number of acres growing.

In addition to this payment farmers participating in the set-aside program are entitled to (1) loans, (2) disaster payments and (3) deficiency payments.

For further information you should contact the Calloway County ASCS Office.

Participation In Tree Farming Is Increasing

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Directors of the Kentucky Forest Industries Association have reported that more than 7,000 acres of privately-owned commercial timber land in Kentucky were brought under the protection of the American Tree Farm program last year.

Richard P. Babbitt of Wickliffe, Westvaco Corp. executive and chairman of the KFIA Tree Farm Committee, said that the 230,574 acres registered as of December 31, 1977, represented a 3.2 per cent increase over the 223,494 acres recorded a year earlier.

The number of certified properties rose from 463 to 507 during the same period, despite delisting of 25 tracts with a combined area of 2513 acres. This jump represents an increase of 9.5 per cent, Babbitt reported.

"Significantly," he said, "the average number of acres in earth tract indicates that KFIA is succeeding in its continued effort to bring small, non-industrial holdings of commercial timber land into the American Tree Farm program."

As recently as 1974, he pointed out, the average tract included 510.8 acres; 1977 summaries reflect an average of only 454.8 acres per tract.

Properties inspected and certified for the first time last year averaged 141.1 acres in size, Babbitt said.

According to KFIA statistical summaries, more than 90 per cent of Kentucky's commercial timber land — some 12 million acres — is privately controlled in holdings that average less than 100 acres in size.

Properties enrolled in the American Tree Farm program are identified by an emblematic plaque and are pledged to forestry practices that provide for recreation, food and shelter for fish and wildlife, watershed protection and the growing and harvesting of repeated timber crops.

Inspections are carried out by district officials of the state's Division of Forestry and include provision for fire and insect control as well as timber stand improvement.

A recent KFIA study indicates that timber ranks second only to tobacco in its value as a cash crop at market.

Health Practices Should Be Performed On Calves Early

Health practices that should be performed on baby calves are sometimes delayed until weaning age or later, often to the financial detriment of the cattleman who owns them.

Duane Miksch, Extension veterinarian at UK's West Kentucky Substation, Princeton, suggests some things the cattleman can do soon after calving to make life easier for the calf and long-term profits larger for the producer.

"Due to the decrease of feed supplies through late winter, a supplemental injection of vitamin A might give newborn calves a head start this spring," Miksch says, explaining that calves are born virtually without the vitamin and that they rely in large part on colostrum for their first supplies of it. He says in injection of the vitamin would supplement the supply the first milk provides.

Vaccination for blackleg and malignant edema also is important to baby calves, according to Miksch.

"There has been a fallacy on the part of some people, thinking that calves don't get blackleg as long as they nurse the cow or until they reach a certain age," he says. "But as a matter of fact, calves can die of blackleg at a very young age."

The veterinarian says vaccination for these two diseases before the calf goes on summer pasture is crucial, since they are caused by soil-borne spores that are picked up as the calf grazes.

Calfhood vaccination for brucellosis also is important, according to Miksch, who points out that Kentucky has a program providing free vaccination of heifer calves to all producers—both dairy and beef—in the state.

"This vaccination not only gives protection against brucellosis, a serious reproductive disease, but also provides more options in marketing for the people that vaccinate," he says, explaining that a number of states refuse to accept import of female cattle that have not been calfhood vaccinated. Miksch points out that heifers cannot be vaccinated for brucellosis after six months of age, according to federal regulations.

Castration and dehorning are two more practices that Miksch advises should be done soon after calving.

"Some people put off castrating until fall on the premise that bull calves grow faster than steers," he says. "But this difference in growth can be compensated for by implanting. And it's much less shock to the calf when it is castrated at a very young age."

"Dehorning is a severe procedure at weaning, too," the vet explains. "But is a minor task and hardly any shock to the calf in spring, before the horn really gets started."

"These practices generally get done sooner or later, but it's often later than sooner," Miksch laments. "The cattleman will find that his calves do a lot better when these management steps are taken soon after they are born."

STRETCHING Your Food dollar...

A Consumer Tip from Extension Specialists at the UK College of Agriculture

Cooked whole grain cereals are a nutritious choice for breakfast. Along with the dry skim milk in your cupboard, they are also a good survival food when you're snowbound—so lay in a good supply. Cost per serving is from 3 to 5 cents per bowl, according to Extension food specialists with the UK College of Agriculture.

More Exams Needed

ATLANTA, Ga.—Speaking at Phoenix, Ariz., before 400 members of the Country Elevator Committee of the National Grain and Feed Dealers Association on March 30, U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) official Barbara Lindemann Schlei said that the current annual warehouse examination rate of 1.25 examinations per facility is not enough to insure the integrity of warehouse receipts.

Schlei, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS), said, "In 1973, 1200 warehouses were voluntarily licensed under the U. S. Warehouse Act. Since 1973, about 200 facilities have been added to the program each year. This year we expect an increase of another 131 facilities. During fiscal 1978, we will be examining 2,359 licensed facilities. Thus the number of licensed facilities has more than doubled in the past five years."

"Our rate of examination in 1973 was two examinations per year, per facility. In 1978, we are examining at the rate of 1.25 examinations per facility per year."

"I believe that two examinations per year is the minimum examination rate necessary to insure the integrity of the warehouse receipt," Schlei concluded. She also thanked the Country Elevator Committee for working closely with an AMS task force that is assessing the current warehouse program and will be making recommendations in the near future.

Insects In Tobacco Beds Can Cause Major Problems

An entomologist in the UK College of Agriculture alerts tobacco farmers that flea beetles and cutworms can be expected to cause problems in tobacco beds this spring.

"These two major pests are a threat in tobacco beds year-in, year-out," says Extension specialist West Gregory. "Farmers can employ two strategies for preventing serious damage—pre-seeding and post-seeding treatments."

Recommended pre-seeding treatments: For cutworms use Diazinon 14 per cent G at the rate of three-fifth pound per bed, applied as a broadcast and worked lightly into the soil. This treatment also will control grubs and wireworms. For flea beetles, apply three-fifths pound Di-Syston 15 per cent G to a bed containing 900 square feet and 3/4 pound to a bed containing 1200 square feet. Work the material into the soil with a light raking at seeding time.

After seeding, cutworms may be controlled by using either Dylox 5 per cent bait or Sevin 5 per cent bait. Research results indicate that Orthene Tobacco Insect Spray also will control cutworms effectively. For best results, baits or sprays should be applied in late afternoon.

Growers may select one of several recommended treatments for controlling flea beetles in tobacco beds after the plants are up. One is broadcasting Di-Syston G over the bed and watering the insecticide in. Spraying with Sevin gives good control but should not be used on plants until they reach an average size referred to as the 7-leaf stage. Smaller plants can be treated with Orthene Tobacco Insect Spray, a 75 per cent material mixed at the rate of 2 tablespoons in 3 gallons of water for treating each bed.
